

presents our

Top 10 Favorite Proposals Of the Month

1) Making Memories of Us

Justin and Kate love the Keith Urban song "Making Memories of Us" so much that they even got the lyrics tattooed on their arms a couple of years ago for their anniversary! So when it came to planning their proposal, we knew the song had to be incorporated! We hired a country band to play the song during a private concert on the beach for the couple! Then to play off of the theme even more we created wooden signs with their favorite memories as a couple. As Kate's friend brought her to the proposal location (Kate thought they were just going for a Saturday walk on the beach), Justin was standing amongst the gorgeous flowers and signs waiting to dance to their song and ask the big question!

2) Follow in Her Footsteps

Becky's mother passed away a couple of years ago from cancer and ever since Becky has gone through life with the motto of making her mother proud. Chris knew that was important to his girlfriend, so we created a proposal that reflected that wish! Becky and Chris arrived at the Dallas Arboretum Garden to find a sign instructing Becky to follow the tile footprints. On top of each footprint was a note from Chris about an accomplishment in Becky's life that her mother would be proud to have witnessed (example: "You made her so proud the day you graduated from nursing school!"). At the end of the footprint lines was a bench with all of Becky's favorite things, from sweet tea, to bible verses, to pictures of her mother! After she said yes their family and friends came out from hiding to share hugs and tears!

3) Famous

Hal and Jennifer spent the day site seeing in New York City. They are both big fans of the city but don't get to NYC very often. Jennifer had always wanted to see a Broadway show. Hal took her to "Mama Mia." At the end of the show, Jennifer and Hal walked out and she was overwhelmed with strangers walking up to her and handing her roses. She had no idea what was happening or why she was getting roses. Finally, John pointed out in the play program "Hey, maybe they think you are one of the actresses. You do look like this actress." We printed out a photo and description of Jennifer and why she was so amazing to Hal and he put it into the program. After she finished reading the program/description of her, Hal proposed to her in front of the theatre!

4) A Life Size Photo

Megan loved taking pictures of Shane and her! Whether it was a big event that they had dressed up for, or just a regular Sunday on the couch, Megan was always with a camera. For his proposal, we blew up Shane's favorite of these pictures and placed them on an overlook of the Pacific Ocean! When Megan arrived at the proposal location there was signs leading her to the spot where Shane was waiting amongst the sea of life-size pictures!

5) A Relationship Bucket List

Caleb and Amy had been dating long distance for several years before he knew it was finally time to pop the question. With him, we created a bucket list of their dreams that will finally be able to happen once they live in the same state! At the proposal location, Caleb walked Amy to a ledge that had 14 buckets, each with a note inside. Starting with the first he read, "stop doing long distance". Other bucket list items included, "Go Skydiving", "Travel to Australia", etc! Then the last bucket said, "Get engaged!"

6) Coffee Lovers

Lindsay, John's girlfriend, went by Starbucks every morning before work. She loved her coffee and never went to work without her cup in hand. Lucky for John, he was able to convince Lindsay's boss to give her the day off. Lindsay however had no idea. She went to Starbucks as usual in the morning. When she ordered her drink she saw something different written on her cup. John gave the barista a label to put on her cup (where the "inspirational quote" is located). It simply said, "Lindsay, you are the love of my life. Will you be my wife? Love, John." John came around the corner and proposed in front of the Starbucks crowd! She had the best coffee of her life, a day off work and spent the rest of the day with her new fiancé.

7) A Gracious Girl

Mike's favorite thing about Abbey was that every night before bed she said her prayers, not to ask for anything, but just to thank God for all He had done during the day. In the middle of Central Park we created a large "THANK YOU" scene just for Abbey! A horse-drawn carriage brought the couple to a gazebo where Abbey found a large banner that read "Thank you", along with a journal from Mike with things he loved about her and a gold bulletin board with notes from Mike thanking her for various things in their relationship! Add some "old Hollywood glam" in gold, pink, and crystal and voila- you have a perfect proposal for a very gracious girl!

8) Prom Redo

Josh and Charlotte had been dating since high school, and actually went to Senior Prom together. But Josh felt that he had really screwed things up for their prom and wanted a mulligan. So, we gave him one! On their vacation to Napa they were escorted to a room for their wine tasting and instead walked right into 2004! Everything that you would see at a typical prom was there from the punch to the corsage. But this wasn't any old prom, we created banners with pictures and sayings from their high school days! Josh also had written a special note in Charlotte's yearbook from senior year and sent it out to us to display. The note explained that he was so sorry for the way their prom in high school turned out and that he hoped this prom would make it all better! After Charlotte took in the whole scene Josh put on his letterman jacket and got down on one knee!

9) Sunflower Spa Day

John's girlfriend absolutely loved going to the spa for her monthly massages! One day, Erin thought she was just going for her regular appointment. But when she walked into her room she found hundreds of her favorite flowers (sunflowers), as well as a custom made painting of her and John as Batman and Catwoman (an inside joke from the beginning of their relationship)! John came into the room and got down on one knee to pop the question!

10) Journey of Love

Will and Paula LOVE to travel! They have gone all around the world together and Will felt that with each stop, his love for Paula just grew more! For their proposal we brought items from different stops from their relationship into one bench! All the mementos, pictures, and postcards were from actual trips they had taken together. Then Will showed Paula the journey they were just beginning and proposed!

